MR. HUGHES' CONDITION.

He is in a Serious Condition as a Result of the Injuries He Sustained on Saturday.

Last night the condition of Benjamin Hughes, who received injuries Saturday by being thrown from his carriage on West Lackawanna avenue, was uncertain, but no new or more serious phase of his injuries had arisen.

BENJAMIN HUGHES.

Mr. Hughes was driving homeward and when near Schnell's hotel on West Lackawanna avenue, a runaway horse dashed into the horse Mr. Hughes was driving.

A few hours after the accident Mr. Hughes' face was terribly swollen. He was in great pain over Saturday night and yesterday, but last evening he was resting easily.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

For some time past, and especially since the last long period of illness in the South Side mills, some people have taken advantage of several caves in this section, leading to old mine workings, out of which they have been taking coal.

The residents of Pear street will soon have the use of their own street in going from Cedar avenue to Pittston avenue, and vice versa.

Among the many handsome residences now being erected on the hill near Connell's park is one owned by Thomas Griffiths, engineer at the Scranton Axle works.
